Dear Theresa

RE: HMIC Report: PEEL: Police Effectiveness 2015 (Vulnerability)

I welcome this report and I appreciate the opportunity to comment upon it.

I am happy that the report highlights some good work and identifies that the Constabulary's service to domestic abuse victims has improved. However, I note that overall the HMIC has judged Suffolk Constabulary's protection and support of vulnerable people to 'require improvement'. In particular I note that four 'areas for improvement' are highlighted.

As a consequence of the report, the Constabulary has provided me with a detailed analysis of its current position and the work it is taking forward. In addition, I have asked for a report to my Accountability and Performance Panel meeting in late February, so I can monitor that appropriate progress is being made to address the areas for improvement.

Yours sincerely

Tim Passmore
Police and Crime Commissioner
